CANADA SHARES NEW CONFIDENCE IN STOCKS

Washington Towns Are Not Welcoming Arriving Filipinos

In Seattle To-day Are 202 Migrants Freed From Meningitis Quarantine at Diamond Point, Port Townsend, and Landed in Spite of Protests of City Health Commissioner; 205 More Placed in Quarantine; Meningitis Deaths Total Fourteen.

Seattle, March 28—Two hundred and two Filipinos landed here last night from Diamond Point, Port Townsend, were supposedly free to-day to go where they wanted, if aroused health officers in various western Washington towns are not able to keep them out of their districts.

The Filipinos were brought to Seattle to make room for 205 new suspects brought in Monday by the American Malitia President Jackson. The steamer Kulshan which brought them, was met by a small armful of guards who took them in taxicabs to the Oriental district of the city.

Aberdeen reported twelve Filipinos were under quarantine there suffering from meningitis, one case being decidedly virulent.

CONDITIONS SCORED

Referring to the deserted army barracks in which the diseased are housed at Diamond Point, City Health Commissioner Dr. E. T. Hanley said conditions were "atrocious." Serious results from the lack of sanitation, he said, apparently had been avoided when the United States mine planted Bell took 70,000 gallons of water to the camp.

Yesterday Commissioner Hanley had laid a blockade to keep any ship carrying Orientals from entering the Seattle harbor. Scarcely five hours later the Kulshan brought the 202 Filipinos from Diamond Point.

OIL OUTPUT IS REDUCED

Leaders in Western Hemisphere Adopt 1928 Figure as Basis For 1929

New York, March 28—Oil kings of the world have agreed to take up the slack in a market bulging from surpluses of supply by going back to their production basis of a year ago.

These men of millions received and agreed to carry out a recommendation for appointment of a permanent organization to study with the United States Department of Commerce and the Federal Conservation Board the "serious over-production" existing throughout the oil field.

Agreement on these proposals were such men as Sir Henri Deterding of the Royal Dutch Company, Harry F. Sinclair of the Sinclair Oil Company, W. C. Teagle of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey and E. D. Reeser of the Barnsdall Oil Company of Tulsa, Okla.

TOTAL CUT DOWN

The net result of the meeting is that almost all of the United States and foreign producers of oil in the Western Hemisphere will curtail from April 1 to the 1929 production, which thus far exceeds by about 170,000 barrels a day the daily output of last year, will not be greater than that of 1928, when 897,816,793 barrels were produced for an average daily supply of 2,463,051.

AT THE THEATRESPOPULAR WESTERN STAR PLAYING IN COLUMBIA STORY

"King of the Rodeo," Universal production star, Glenn Tryon, now showing at the Columbia Theatre, is undoubtedly one of the Western star's best pictures and has a new kind of theme that proved highly entertaining to the audience at the showing here.

The picture is a story based on the real Chicago rodeo and thrilling scenes from the events, with Gibson as one of the competitors, form the background for the picture. Hoot competed in actual events, and it is plain that the determined efforts of the well-trained cowboys were different from those of movie extras. These sequences alone would make the picture outstanding, but in addition it has an excellent plot, fine acting and all-around superior treatment.

GLENN TRYON, NOW AT THE PLAYHOUSE, FORMERLY ON STAGE

Glen Tryon, star of Universal's "The Kid's Clever," now showing at the Playhouse Theatre, came to the screen after a long and varied career on the legitimate stage, born in Jefferson, Idaho. Tryon was raised in Pendleton, Oregon, where he first appeared on the stage as an amateur performer.

The theatre was in his blood, and while still quite young, Tryon joined a theatrical troupe. His flair for comedy manifested in him made the comedian of the traveling company and, after a few years, left them to star in vaudeville and musical comedy, and now in pictures. Kathryn Crawford appears opposite Tryon in "The Kid's Clever." William James Craft directed.

WIDELY READ STORY NOW SHOWING HERE AT THE DOMINION

The important picture premieres of the week will take place to-night at the Dominion Theatre, when "Uncle Tom's Cabin" opens on the silver sheet in 1929, for the first time in this city a picture that has been in production at the Universal City Studios for two years.

There is a certain significance about "Uncle Tom's Cabin" appearing for the first time on paper—open on the silver sheet in 1929, for this year marks the seventy-fifth anniversary of the first playing on any stage of a production that has out-distanced any theatrical piece yet to appear.

"Uncle Tom" was first picturized with the screen ever since he was younger than they are to-day. Harry Pollard, the man who has directed the present special production, made a two-reel version back in the old days, a version in which he himself played

Three years ago, Mr. Pollard concluded that "Uncle Tom's Cabin" should be produced in as impressive a manner as possible, and from the standpoint of the author of the book rather than of the various characters which have been gradually discarded by the army of "Tom show" actors.

CANTEEN FUNDS ARE DISCUSSED

New Disabled Soldiers' Council Questions Distribution Method

The inaugural meeting of the Disabled Soldiers' Council was held this week at the headquarters of the Canadian Pensioners' Association. Delegates were present from the Amputations Association of the Great War branch, the Veterans of France and the Canadian Pensioners' Association. Comrade Palmer, Amputations Association, was elected president, and Comrade A. J. Wilson, secretary, pro tem.

The president of the council explained to the delegates the aims and objects of the council, the reason for its establishment in Victoria being to represent the interests of the pensioners of disabled ex-service men in regard to pension matters, employment problem cases and the question of provincial canteen funds.

CANTEEN FUNDS

A resolution submitted by the Amputations Association received the support of the council to the effect that delegates report back to their local organizations with reference to canteen fund differences in the future, and that further suggestions from soldier organizations, regarding the disposal of the canteen funds be presented to all branches for discussion and to report back to the council.

The secretary was further instructed to contact the Canadian Legion, the Royal Canadian Legion, the Canadian Legion, asking whether soldier organizations had been notified of any conference in regard to canteen funds.

A further resolution submitted by the Amputations Association that received the support of all the delegates present stated "that in the opinion of the delegates the present method adopted for the disposal of the $200,000 of the provincial canteen fund in the form of temporary relief serves no useful purpose to veterans and their dependents; neither is it any permanent solution."

It was also decided that so long as the present method exists in the disposition of the canteen fund, cases of pensioners being refused assistance from the fund owing to governmental regulations be referred to the council for action.

The next meeting of the council will be held April 16 when it is proposed to deal further with the question of the canteen fund and unemployment of disabled ex-service men. All problems relating to the general welfare of disability pensioners will be dealt with by the council.

McGeer To Be Guest At Vernon Banquet

Vernon, March 28—The Vernon Board of Trade is planning a reception for G. G. McGeer, K.C., who he comes to Vernon on Saturday evening to attend "Fright Rales." The events to take the form of a banquet with places for several hundred. Invitations are being sent to Grote Stirling, M.P. for Yale;

F. Kennedy, M.P.P. for North Okanagan; W. M. McGeer, chairman of the Committee of Directors; E. J. Chambers, president of the Associated Growers; R. B. Staples, manager of Sales Service; the mayors and reeves of adjoining municipalities and the heads of fruit shipping firms.

MYSTERY THRILLER FEATURE OFFERING AT THE CAPITOL

Ever so often a motion picture producer makes a chilling, creepy sensation story on a stormy night while alone in the house. That is the way "Seven Footprints to Satan," First National mystery thriller now at the Capitol Theatre, affects you. If you permit yourself to be lost in following the ramifications of the film, you begin to believe it and then it's a case of gooseflesh and cold sensations along the spinal column.

At the same time it is sheer delight to realize that the "American night" is only more so. For the film treatment of A. Merritt's best seller simply takes you out of yourself and transports you to a world of wonders where all kinds of strange figures appear and disappear, where the dead are not what they seem, and where every dark corner conceals a fearsome creature.

THE STAGE
On the stage at the Capitol Theatre the management presents Carnie and Seville in singing and dancing, from Freddie and Dodie, two co-eds, who dance and sing, and Tweedie and Tweedie, in a novelty musical presentation. The Capitol stage band, under the direction of Chris. Williams, will feature a number of rock music. Dick Reed, the singing M.C. will again be on the stage.

GRIPPING PLOT IS FEATURE OF PLAY AT THE COLISEUM

With one of their finest stage productions since coming to Victoria, the Coliseum Players, under the direction of Raymond "Toby" Leitch, are appearing all this week at the Coliseum Theatre in a stage vehicle entitled "The Hoodlum." So far, the three capacity houses have applauded their favorites to the echo, thereby showing how popular the players have become with Victoria theatregoers since presenting their first bill here more than two months ago.

The plot of "The Hoodlum" is strong and gripping and at the same time there is plenty of comedy element running through the hour-and-a-half show. The players are all good and are giving fine performances in their respective roles. Miss Leone Webber, who the title role, is especially good. She appears as an illiterate, uncouth girl of the slums, but by her nobility of heart and loving ways succeeds in winning the esteem of a wealthy family. Miss Webber is always pretty and the audience seems more so, appearing in a lovely green gown which suits her to perfection.

Others in the play who are giving good accounts of themselves are "Toby" Leitch, who provides most of the comedy: Miss Ada Daniels, Miss Esther Todd, Paul Wallace, Forrest Taylor, Leon Cluff and Lorus Bagley.

On the screen this week, Nick Stuart and Sally Phipps are appearing in the feature roles of a picture entitled "The News Parade."

of VIENNA and BUDAPEST—head of the famous House of Pessl, beauty advisors to the aristocracy for over 100 years—

advises this one way to skin beauty

This celebrated expert emphasizes the importance of washing for beauty and warns against the ill-effects of soaps not specially made to retain the bloom of a good complexion.

"I earnestly recommend to my clients that they use only the soap blended of palm and olive oils. The use of Palmolive is especially important because its gentle action leaves the skin in a healthy, smooth, normal condition which is the very foundation of a beautiful complexion."

S. Pessl.

VIENNA I,
KAERNERSTRASSE 28

S. PESSL, head of the celebrated House of Pessl, which has ministered to the beauty needs of Royalty for over 100 years. Monsieur Pessl is court dresser, today, and has as patrons the Ex-Emperors of Austria and many of the Queens of Europe.

Above the doorway of the Pessl Shop, across from the opera house in Vienna, may be seen crests of some of the celebrated Royal houses to which the House of Pessl has acted as Beauty Advisor

IN gay Vienna, where the women are enchanting; in romantic Budapest, on the Danube—there is one name in beauty culture which has been recognized for over a hundred years—the name of Pessl.

Today, in the celebrated shop across from the opera in Vienna, S. Pessl carries on the tradition of the Pessl name. The crowned heads to which he has ministered are evidenced by the royal crest he is authorized to display above the windows of his typically Viennese shop.

To his select patrons, Pessl recommends a very simple treatment for retaining youthful loveliness . . . the same treatment advised by the outstanding beauty specialists of Paris, Rome, London, Geneva—everywhere.

Palm and olive oils in soap

"I should naturally have been led, by my knowledge of the complexion effects of palm and olive oils," says S. Pessl, "to have invented a soap made exclusively from them."

"As these oils are already combined in Palmolive Soap," Monsieur Pessl explains, "I earnestly recommend to my patrons that they use only this soap. Its gentle action cleans the skin thoroughly and, at the same time, leaves it in a healthy, smooth, normal condition which is the very foundation of a beautiful complexion."

The famous "international" treatment for a lovely skin

The poisonous and dangerous secretions of dirt and dust, of make-up and cream which find their way deep into the pores must be removed. Palm and olive oils, as they are blended in Palmolive Soap, act to soften the skin, to cleanse the pores, to refresh the natural coloring.

To get the utmost benefit from Palmolive Soap, you are urged by all the experts to follow this treatment, twice a day: with both hands make a rich lather of Palmolive Soap and warm water. Massage it gently into the skin, permitting it to penetrate the pores, to free them of all impurities. Then rinse first with warm water, later cold. An ice massage is invigorating.

M. Pessl's advice is echoed by such famous specialists as Linz Cavalieri, of Paris; Elise Bock, of Berlin; Bertha Jacobson, of London. Wherever women seek the best skin care they are told: wash for beauty with Palmolive Soap,

A priceless formula embodying the precious oils of palm and olive, famous since the days of Cleopatra, for prolonging health and beauty.

Increased Fire Protection Is Rossland's Need

Provincial Marshal Recommends New Measures to City Council

Nelson, March 28.—That the fire chief and his men were negligent in the city of Rossland neglected their duties in not enforcing clauses of the Provincial Fire Marshal's Act is the statement of Provincial Fire Marshal J. A. Thomas in a report on his inquiry into the disastrous fire of March 1 last in Rossland.

After a lengthy report dealing with evidence secured at the inquiry and deplored conditions in Rossland's business section, Fire Marshal Thomas recommends that Rossland employ a competent engineer to make a survey of the water system and bring it to a useful state. He urges destruction of dilapidated buildings beyond repair and repairs to those in disrepair.

He found, at his inquiry, that the Rossland conflagration was not of incendiary origin, but due to the carelessness of some person or persons.

He urged a building by-law for Rossland classifying for fire walls where frame construction is allowed.

A complete survey of the fire department with a view to bringing it up to standard is also recommended.

The Fire Marshal deplored the state of affairs in Rossland following the fire, when he visited and described a building next a hotel as a "baited death trap."

He urges the council to appoint a competent man on the fire department who might relieve the chief if that he might enforce the Fire Marshal's Act in Rossland.

The report, a lengthy one, was reviewed by the Rossland city council last night.

Captain Declares I'm Alone Affair Was Raw Deal

London, March 28.—Capt. J. T. Randall of the sunken schooner I'm Alone talked with The London Evening News by telephone yesterday, and was quoted as saying among other things that he had been in touch with the British consul here, and had asked him to do what he could to see the British consul demanded to see the British consul.

"All day I asked to see him, and I know now he was waiting all day trying to get in touch with me, but they told me the consul had turned us down and would have nothing to do with us . . . The consul here is just as sore as we can be," said Capt. Randall.

INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE

Globe, March 28.—The I'm Alone controversy has aroused interest here because the law governing territorial waters is poorly defined: It will be on the programme of an international law conference to be held at The Hague next year. In preparation for that conference the transit section of the League of Nations is studying the problem of policing territorial waters.

Vernon Council Is Objecting To Telephone Rate

Vernon, March 28.—"We believe it degrades the citizens of this city shall obtain the telephone service for which they pay."

The above sentence out of the report on Okanagan Telephone Company matters made by the electric light committee of the Vernon City Council is followed by another:

"We believe an investigation by the inspector of electrical energy would be in the best interests of both our citizens and the Okanagan Telephone Company."

The report, awaiting a vote of the city council, having endorsed the report, is awaiting a vote of the inspector of electrical energy.

The difficulty arises out of the order which fixes the two-party rate at $2 each to subscribers on party lines. In many instances there are said to be more than two parties on a line, but the rate remains the same.

The rate in question is said to have existed for a long time and the action taken is the result of a complaint made in 1928.

Newspapermen were refused admission to the pier and company representatives refused to reveal the destination of the Filipinos or whether any precautions had been taken to prevent a further influx of Orientals who had been brought to the pier.

One of the white nurses at Diamond Point was stricken with the malady yesterday. Five other new cases were reported last night, bringing the known number to thirty-two.

HABSBURY, I.O.

Olympia, Wash., March 28.—Olympia's gates are barred to Orientals for an indefinite time, following the return of 202 Orientals from the liner President Madison aboard which cases of spinal meningitis were found.

Dr. G. E. Murphy, city health officer, ordered the police to throw a cordon about the city to prevent entry of Orientals, and also ordered them to make arrangements to see that none entered on buses.

In addition to this all ships entering the port will be quarantined if they have touched at the Philippines or the Far East.

DEATHS, AT HONOLULU

Honolulu, March 28.—Three more Filipinos, strange passengers of the liner President Pierce, died here yesterday of spinal meningitis, bringing the total deaths to eleven, since the arrival of the ship March 14. Seven Filipinos died of the disease between Manila and Honolulu. Officials at Queen's Hospital said the disease was being controlled and the situation improving as no new cases have been reported recently.

HEROIC ACT OF YOUTH IS RECOGNIZED

PERSONAL RISK

"As mayor of the City of Victoria, I have been requested by the International Human Association to present you with the parchment certificate of the Association as a permanent record of your bravery in saving the life of a comrade. Nothing I can say will add to the feeling of satisfaction you must have in knowing that as a young man of 18 years of age, Captain Colby, you displayed that presence of mind and indifference to personal risk which is particularly expected of all men in uniform. Although your comrades in the Battalion must take pride in your action I assure you it must have given a great pleasure to your parents who will be happy in the knowledge that you did not fail in time of danger and did your duty most gallantly when called upon.

A FINE EXAMPLE

"To you young students standing on the threshold of life may I say that I hope the recollection of Mr. Colby's action will remain with you through the years to come as an example of pluck and unselfishness which will guide your conduct should a similar situation confront you.

"It is with great pleasure Mr. Colby that I hand you this parchment, which reads:

"For prompt action and presence of mind in the rescue of Frederick Colby, a member of the 1st Battalion, Rossland, B.C., June 29, 1927."

"In wishing you every success in your future life, which has opened so full of promise, may I hope that this well-earned record will always act as a further inspiration to you.

PARENTS ATTEND

Colby's proud parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Colby, 631 Pine Street, sat near the entrance of the auditorium, witness the official recognition of their son's heroic act. They walked with him through the cheering lines of students after the ceremony was over.

Ira Dilworth, principal of the High School, congratulated Colby on behalf of the school and the students.

Although it is a great pleasure to feel that one of the school's former students was being so recognized, it was also pleasant to realize that heroic acts were being performed almost daily in the life of the school. Mr. Dilworth said.

He recalled that during the recent cold spell, when a drowning tragedy occurred at Elk Lake, two of the school's students, Omond Sherring and Raymond Kersey, had aided in the rescue of one of the two youths who had fallen into the ice at that time. The students applauded this statement with vigor.

George Jay, chairman of the school board expressed the congratulations of the board to Colby and wished him health, happiness and prosperity.

At the conclusion of the presentation to Colby, Mayor Anson, also presented to him an Eversharp writing set as a token of the city's esteem.

TURNER FARM

Only the best at the show, although there were an unusually fine display of baby beef. This year Anson will again enter her animal in the Calgary and Edmonton shows and hopes to repeat her success of last year, when she won the championships at those places, it will thus not be included in the sale to-day.

CUP AMONG PRIZES

Augusta's Perfection, a bull born January of last year and sired by Braithwaite Marquis, won the honors for James Prater, his dam being Proud Augusta.

Colby, who is winning the southern champion in competition with Alberta bulls, Turner won for the sixth consecutive year the Hudson's Bay Cup for British Columbia bred shorthorns, and in the face of some very strong competition the Frank prize for the grand champion bull of all breeds in the show.

The show itself was one of the best held as regard quality and quantity of exhibits there being about 100 in the breeding classes and twice that number in the market classes. The attendance of spectators was also much larger, and the building was thronged throughout the judging.

U.S. OFFICIALS DECLARE I'M ALONE FOUND WITHIN TWELVE MILES OF COAST

INFORMATION DESIRED

Unlike the British and Canadian diplomatic representatives here, who are concerned with the broad principles involved in the sinking of the I'm Alone, the American officials are interested in an investigation by the French Embassy's interest had to do chiefly with the death of one of its nationals.

The French consul, however, may have to be called upon by the State Department and the Canadian Legation to contribute such information as he may have about the distance of the I'm Alone from the British consulate at Belize, British Honduras, the port from which the I'm Alone sailed on its last voyage.

BELIZE, British Honduras, March 28.—Special police protection was given to G. R. Tom, the United States consul here, as a consequence of high feelings over the sinking of the British Canadian schooner I'm Alone last Friday by a United States coast guard cutter in the Gulf of Mexico.

Two Belize men were members of the crew of the ill-fated ship and in some quarters there has been considerable anti-American agitation.

The authorities promised every precaution to prevent an attack on the consulate.

FOURTEEN MILES OFF SHORE

The consul, Henry Tom, reported on the preliminary statements and hearings at New Orleans after the crew had been landed, including the contention of the I'm Alone's master that his vessel had been 14 miles off shore when it sank.

The coastguard's contention is that the schooner was within the twelve-mile limit, in which the United States claims the right to board and examine suspected vessels.

While the international authorities are trying to get the exact details on which to base their next moves, the case has aroused high feeling at Belize, British Honduras, the port from which the I'm Alone sailed on its last voyage.

ONTARIO IN LINE

AFTER A GOOD DEAL OF HESITATION and delay the Ferguson Government in Ontario has introduced its old age pension measure in the provincial Legislature. Its provisions differ from those of the legislation in operation in our own Province. Ontario is proposing to pay thirty per cent. of the cost and to collect twenty per cent. from the larger municipalities, the other fifty per cent. of course, being contributed by the Dominion.

Opinion seems to be divided on the plan. Although there is general satisfaction that the Province at last has decided to pay pensions to its old people, it is being contended that Ontario's wealth justifies the paying of the whole of the fifty per cent. out of the provincial treasury. This, however, is Ontario's business; the main point as far as eligible pensioners are concerned is that they soon will enjoy the benefits which this legislation confers.

It has been estimated by Mr. J. A. Ellis, director of the Bureau of Municipal Affairs of Ontario, that there are between 18,000 and 20,000 persons eligible for the benefits of the proposed law, and that the gross payments annually will be about $4,500,000. On this basis the distribution of cost will be: Dominion $2,250,000, province $1,350,000, and municipalities $900,000.

Provinces are availing themselves of the advantages of the Dominion Act are paying their share of the fifty per cent. The Federal treasury is contributing to the provinces operating this legislation. But their old people are not getting the pension. It may be assumed, however, that it will not be very long before all the provinces have fallen into line. Nova Scotia balked at the proposal the other day, the Government's slender majority, no doubt, being responsible for its refusal to discuss the matter.

THE HUNT FOR WISDOM

WILLIAM BEEBE, NATURALIST, has sailed for a tiny island in the Bermudas group, where he will spend the next few months in a diving suit walking around on the floor of the ocean to look at the fish.

Between dives, Mr. Beebe will drag the floor of such parts of the ocean as he can not visit in person. He does not know just what he is going to find, but he is confident that when he is through he will know a great deal more about certain obscure forms of marine life than he knows now.

The bump of curiosity is a strange thing and it leads men into strange places. Mr. Beebe's discoveries will not have what we like to call practical value; nobody will get rich through them, no new industries will grow out of them, no great change in our habits of thought will be caused by them. The world will wag on in much the same way whether or not his expedition is successful.

Why, then, should he go? And why should we stay-at-homes, feeling as we do about it all, nevertheless admire him for going?

The human race, like the elephant's child in Kipling's story, has an insatiable curiosity. It is forever collecting facts. Some of them are very useful and some of them are not, but the collection keeps growing, year by year, regardless. And the story of its growth is the story of the advance of mankind from darkness to light.

The world is still a very mysterious place. In the beginning it was infinitely more so. A few struggling human beings, savage and ignorant, huddled in caves and nourished a life that was little higher than that of the bear and the ape. All around was darkness. All of the poetry, beauty, knowledge, sacrifice and hope of future generations were hidden behind a veil. In all the world there was no ambition higher than the ambition to get a warmer cave, no dream brighter than the dream of an uninterrupted supply of meat.

But these primitive men had one redeeming feature. They were inquisitive. They had a great wonder, a great curiosity, and they had to satisfy it.

They began inquiring into things. They sought the "why" and the "how" of everything. Little by little, in century-long struggles, they added to their knowledge. They came out of their caves and built houses. They learned how to till the ground, how to build boats, how to tame horses and get themselves carried from place to place; they learned, also, how to make crude musical instruments, how to paint pictures and carve images out of wood and stone, how to make things that were beautiful as well.

Thus the slow advance was begun. In the years that have passed it has carried the race a long way. Out of it has been born a new vision of the world and man's place in it; a vision that sees it, not as a prison house, but as a region in which anything is possible—in which the human race can reach any height it desires.

That is where our insatiable curiosity has led us. Beebe's trip to the Bermudas is just another manifestation of it.

WALL STREET CLEAN-UPS

FOLLOWING ITS SPRING CLEANING, order is being restored in the New York stock market. The various stocks are again climbing the hill from which they tumbled the other day. When they have gone high enough in the estimation of the money moguls they will receive a few well-directed kicks in vulnerable places and will come crashing down again. Although a great many people have been thrown into financial oblivion by the recent collapse, there will soon be just as much speculation as before. There will be just as much dealing in stocks at prices which make their earning powers negligible, just as much a demand for offerings at many times their investment value.

Everybody knows that sooner or later there must be another clean-up, either because some big interests want to make a killing or because the authorities feel that prices have reached a point in which there is danger of a great financial catastrophe. But everybody hopes that somebody else will be caught, that he will be able to make his stake before the smash comes. There is not much business in this. When prices exceed the margin of sound investment the operation becomes a horse race or a lottery. Indeed, in the last analysis in this age the market is nothing but a huge bubble easily pricked.

When the New York market goes on strike the Canadian market strikes in sympathy. This is due largely to Canadians selling their local stocks to protect themselves in New York. Curiously enough, often they part with safe, promising stocks to cover their speculation in others that are unsafe to the point of worthlessness. They sacrifice good investments on the altar of a feverish gamble. If only a fraction of the Canadian money which went into the Wall Street whirlpool recently was invested in Canada we would be very much a gainer.

PEACE AND ARMAMENTS

MURRAY LLOYD GEORGE SAYS THAT "a peace with huge armaments is a swindle and will soon end in a crash."

We know that the risk of war will vanish only when the peoples of the world develop the will to peace, when they, by their influence upon governments, insist that international disputes shall be settled by peaceful means; but it must be patent to everybody that as long as there exist large quantities of implements with which to wage war some sinister agency always will be available to invoke their use.

Mr. Lloyd George, of course, is emphasizing the amount of money Britain and other nations are spending upon armaments as an argument to advance his appeal for political support at the forthcoming general elections. At the same time he must be credited with a genuine desire for the end of war.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Sometimes a city can save daylight when it cannot save anything else.

No matter whether the victims of the Wall Street clean-up called themselves bulls or bears, there is no doubt that they were really lambs.

At six dollars a word Mr. Coolidge, who is only an amateur, will get higher pay for his writing than some of us who have had the highest and longest experience.—Toronto Star Weekly.

The head janitor of the Parliament Buildings has been dismissed. He was appointed by the former Government, of course. Probably two partisans of the new Government will be appointed to the vacancy. There is nothing like economy.

Last year the number of persons arrested in Windsor for being intoxicated while driving a car increased from nineteen to thirty-seven and the number of ordinary drunks from 467 to 678. In Woodstock the number of persons arrested for drunkenness increased from thirty to seventy-two and the number charged with intoxication while driving a car from four to seven. In Sandwich arrests increased from 990 to 1,211. The Ferguson plan of pleasing everybody does not seem to be working.—Toronto Star Weekly.

The opposition at Ottawa wants the people of Canada to understand clearly that the present unparalleled prosperity of Canada is in no way due to the policies of the Mackenzie King Government. But until the waves of prosperity overflowed and drowned out the blue run cries of the opposition the charge was that the policies of the Government were wholly responsible for the conditions which were declared to exist. As Canada gives unmistakable evidence of being fond of prosperity she is now content to let the Government and the opposition go ahead performing their present functions, in which both excel.—Toronto Star Weekly.

CANADIAN SAVINGS DEPOSITS

At the end of 1928 savings deposit in the chartered banks of Canada stood at $1,399,062,201, which represents a per capita deposit for the Dominion of about $140.

TOO BIG

Mr. Coolidge is going to write books, and if he puts into them one-half the things he kept to himself while he was President they are going to be big ones.

Most people nowadays do not wish to stay at home; they want to move about as far and as fast and as often as they can.—Sir Reginald Blomfield.

Any view proceeding on the basis that the Scottish nationality is either suppressed or insufficiently recognized in the world is based on the most fallacious foundation.—Sir Robert Horne.

J. B. Priestley, not an expressionist: "It is a habit of critics to imagine that they are explaining literature, when, in truth, they are only explaining themselves."

Harriet Monroe, exercising poetic license in a RAZED generalization: "Poets have made more wars than kings, and war will not cease until they remove its glamour from the imagination of men."

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

THE VICTORIA DAILY TIMES
MARCH 28, 1904

Choo, March 27—At 3 o'clock this morning another attempt was made by the Japanese to block the entrance to Port Arthur and bottle up the Russian fleet, by sinking four stone-laden steamers in the entrance to the harbor. They were convoyed by eight torpedo boats.

It is not improbable that within a few months preparations will be in progress for the erection here of an immense mill by the Frontenac Cereal Co., a manufacturing concern of Kingston, Ontario. Such a plant will involve the expenditure of between $250,000 and $300,000, and when completed constant employment will be provided for not less than 150 men.

Permission having not been obtained from Ottawa sanctioning the construction of the new C.P.R. wharf in James Bay, work will be begun on that structure just as soon as necessary arrangements can be made.

The Alaska Steamship Company has issued the invitations for the launching of the steamer Jefferson, which will take place at Tacoma Saturday evening, April 2. Two thousand invitations have been issued and many Victorians will be going over to attend the launching ceremony.

Weather Forecast—Victoria and Vicinity—Moderate to fresh northerly to easterly winds, unseasonal rain and stationary or higher temperature.

C.P.R. steamer Tartar, which sails for the Orient this evening, will have a small passenger list, but will carry a full cargo. Included in it are 40,000 cases of canned salmon, consigned for Japan.

A THOUGHT

But I keep under my body, and bring it into subjection; lest that by any means, when I have preached to others, I myself should be a castaway.—Cor. 4:27.

The world looks at ministers out of the pulpit to know what they mean when in it.—Cecil.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

THE BURNING QUESTION
The Winnipeg Tribune

Rockefeller Jr. may have won a glorious victory, but the real question is, will it bring down the price of oil?

THE STUDY OF SALESMANSHIP
The London News and Westminster

Many manufacturers in this country have begun to study statesmanship with an enthusiastic appreciation of its importance, and we know of at least one great British firm, which has revolutionized its methods in the choice of salesmen. But much remains to be done, and the Royal call to arms can do nothing but good throughout the whole range of British trade and industry.

SUPPORT FOR AIR MAIL
Saskatoon Star-Phoenix

If the service between Montreal and Toronto is not yielding results satisfactory to the postal department, it is hard to say where in Canada sufficient patronage for air mail could be found to cover the expenses and give a profit. Montreal and Toronto have together 1,500,000 people and must exchange huge quantities of mail daily. If the business men of these two metropolitan centres are not interested in the saving of time offered by the air routes, the outlook is hardly bright for the extension of the service.

RETALIATION
Manitoba Free Press

With some increase in the United States tariff in prospect, further restricting the marketing of farm products, Canada must consider what course she will take under the circumstances. It is suggested by some that Canada should retaliate by a sharp increase in her tariff on both factory and farm products, thus shutting out United States goods from this country. This would suit the high protectionists of the industrial centres of Ontario and Quebec, but it would not benefit the producers of the Prairie Provinces nor the Maritime Provinces. Those are the sections likely to suffer most from the raising of the United States tariff, and they would simply suffer still more if Canada retaliated in the same way and incidentally caused a rise in prices for manufactured goods of all kinds in this country.

Sage Tea Turns Gray Hair Dark

By RUTH WAITE

Every woman with gray, faded or streaked hair is entitled to do something about it. There is every woman's right to retain her youthfulness and charm as long as she can. Every woman mentions gray hair to me—I don't have time to advise the use of a restorer and I recommend sage tea and sulphur.

A brew of common garden sage when properly combined with sulphur, restores gray hair to its original color, lustre and beauty. So perfectly does it do the work that its use is undetectable. You may either prepare the mixture at home or buy it already prepared and ready to use. Wyeth's Sage & Sulphur is the name of the prepared article and it costs only 75¢ a bottle at druggists. Hence there's no need of your bothering to prepare the mixture yourself.

You simply moisten a comb or soft brush with it and draw it through your hair for a short time. The first application banishes the gray and one or two more sees even the hair beautifully restored to its original life and color. One would be surprised if she or he knew of the thousands who use this preparation. (Advt.)

While details of this offer were not made public, it is stated that it was such that the prospective purchasers hoped further negotiations would develop. The Government is in receipt of the offer and is studying the road and it is believed that other interests have looked over the property.

As Premier Tolmie announced during the session of the Legislature, the C.P.R. and C.N.R. have joined the Government in making a complete survey of the road. It is thought that no definite negotiations will be undertaken until this survey is completed.

Healed His Rupture

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of recovery was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely healed me.

Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell but will give full information about how you may find a comfortable recovery without an operation.

—J. McLeod, Carpenter, 1280 Madison Avenue, Massapequa, N.J. Better cut out this notice and show it to any others who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of the rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.

KING'S CHAPLAIN TO MARRY PEER'S ONLY DAUGHTER

Ex-Moderator of Scotland and Hon. Iona Macdonald Engaged

London, March 28 (By the Canadian Press)—The marriage will take place in Mitford Church, Morpeth, April 3, of Very Rev. Norman Maclean, D.D., Chaplain to His Majesty's ex-Moderator of the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland, St. Columba's Parish Church, Edinburgh, and Hon. James Macdonald, only daughter of Baron Macdonald, Ardmale Castle, Isle of Skye.

Dr. Maclean was born in 1869 in Braes Portree, where his father was a teacher. A writer in the Glasgow Herald a few years ago described Dr. Maclean's career as "hardly romantic." He was ordained at the age of twenty-three to Hollin-in-Watermouth, which at that time had a congregation of about a score, with only one service a day at St. Columba's, Edinburgh—where he has been since 1911, numbers nearly 4,000. In the intervening years Dr. Maclean has had charges in Glengarry, Colinton and the Park, Glasgow.

Hon. Iona Marie Adelais Hope was born in 1886. Lord Macdonald, who succeeded his brother in 1914, is J. P. and D.L. for the County of Inverness, and was formerly a lieutenant-colonel in 1875 Louis, daughter of Col. George William Holmes Ross of Cromarty, only daughter of Baron Macdonald, Armadale Castle, Isle of Skye.

Dr. Maclean was born in 1869 in

BRITAIN MAY LOSE PORTLAND VASE

London (By Mail)—Will an effort be made to save the Portland Vase for the British nation? The question is being asked because the vase is to be offered at auction early this Summer and it seems to be taken for granted that it is likely to fall to an English purchaser. The bidding may easily reach half a million dollars.

The Portland Vase is the famous Roman cinerary urn which the Portland family has lent to the British Museum since 1810. In 1770 Sir William Hamilton, the British representative in Rome, bought it for 1,000 guineas, the vase having been given to the English Palace. Bringing the vase to England, Sir Willard sold it to the then Duchess of Portland and it was lent to the British Museum.

The vase was smashed by a maid in 1845, but was restored by experts and has been specially protected since. Experts are of the opinion it belonged to the first century of the Roman Empire, and specimens found at Pompeii have supported their contention.

The Duke of Portland offers no explanation why he wishes now sell the vase, declaring it is a private matter. No offer has yet been made to purchase the vase for Great Britain, but there seems some doubt if such a project will be actively supported by any of the big funds instituted for this purpose, there are so many more important, and more national treasures, in jeopardy of the auction knife.

Victoria West Church Scene Of Pretty Wedding

Miss Betty Crooks Bride of James R. Marrs Wednesday

St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Victoria West, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Wednesday evening, March 27, when Rev. J. S. Patterson united in marriage Elizabeth (Betty) Maclean, second daughter of Mrs. E. Crooks, John Street, and James Robertson Marrs of Victoria.

The bride, who entered the church to the strains of the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin, was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Archibald MacLean, a career as "hardly romantic." He was ordained at the age of twenty-three to Hollin-in-Watermouth, which at that time had a congregation of about a score, with only one service a day at St. Cuthbert's, Edinburgh—where he has been since 1911, numbers nearly 4,000. In the intervening years Dr. MacLean has had charges in Glengarry, Colinton and the Park, Glasgow.

Miss Christie Crooks, sister of the bride, was a pretty bridesmaid in a peach crepe satin gown with a bouffant skirt, and held at the waist with a corsage bouquet of orchids. Her silk embroidered tulle veil was worn cap-style, with orange blossoms and she carried a beautiful bouquet of roses, sweet peas and carnations.

Miss Lindsay Foss arrived from the East yesterday on a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Carlyle, St. Charles Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Detouch of Winnipeg left this afternoon for Vancouver after spending the last month at the Empress Hotel.

The church was prettily decorated, the bridal couple standing under a bell-shaped rose suspended from a floral arch. The choir sang "Volent Virgines Brethren O'er Earth" and during the signing of the register Miss H. Barry sang "Thanks Be to God." Mr. J. Smith accompanying at the organ. Messrs. Duncan Stewart and James McLean acted as ushers.

As the bridal party left the church piper of the Canadian Scottish formed an aisle through which they passed, and the pipes played "Scotland the Brave."

Following the ceremony a reception was held in Harmony Hall, Fort Street. Mrs. E. Crooks, mother of the bride, becomingly attired in black satin, and Mrs. Marrs, mother of the groom, in black georgette, received the guests.

A delicious buffet luncheon was served, those assisting being the Misses Mattie McLean, Barbara Crooks, May Marrs, Beth Stewart, Isabel Crawford, Nancy Johnston, Annie Brownman and Edna Blackburn.

Among the many beautiful gifts was a silver service from the B.C. Telephone Co. staff, of which the bride has been a member, and a handsome tray of silver from the staff of the City Hall; from the Canadian Scottish a beautiful clock, and the Christian Endeavor Society of St. Paul's Church a silver casserole.

The bride and the groom's gifts included to the bride a gold wrist watch, the bridesmaid a silver mesh purse, to the best man a gold ring and to Miss Edna a necklace of pearls.

The happy couple left on the mid-night boat for the Sound cities, where the honeymoon will be spent, the bride traveling in a dress of cerise georgette with fawn kasha cloth coat and mohair hat en suite.

Mr. J. S. Hargrave and his little daughter arrived from Vancouver yesterday to spend the Easter holidays with her mother, Mrs. Arthur Robertson, "Oracles," Pemberton Road. Mr. Hargrave will join her to-morrow.

The supreme mystery of the passion of Jesus, that which human imagination has never been able to fathom, is the sacrifice of the Cross. Some one said Dr. Sippell, "In the seven words of the Cross to mean: (1) Forgiveness; (2) salvation; (3) affliction for His mother; (4) the word of atonement; (5) physical suffering; (6) triumph; and (7) reunion. Speaking particularly of atonement, Dr. Sippell said it is expressed one of the greatest messages of hope that death is possible.

Christ's own words of love and compassion are the best possible measures of Christ's own sense of love and love of man. Christ craved human sympathy, but His life was lived on such a high plane that it was impossible to find any human being able to share His ideals. He was lonely because of His unique personality.

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

CHILD HAS NO DESIRE TO EAT HARD FOODS*

Mrs. F. E. F. writes:

"My baby is almost ten months old; he is a healthy baby and has never been sick a day in his life. He is just getting his eighth tooth. He is slow or fast?"

"My trouble is this, Mrs. Eldred. I cannot get him to eat a cracker or a piece of hard toast. I put it in his mouth but he doesn't seem to know what to do with it. He never puts any of his playthings in his mouth. How can I get him to eat it?"

"He sits in his buggy and tries to get out, but if I put him on the floor he screams. He won't make an attempt to crawl. I never was around a young baby until I had one of my own."

ANSWER

The baby should come to the knowledge of how to eat much earlier than ten months, and his education should be started on softer foods. Please don't keep a piece of toast or cracker in his buggy. Think that a dirty and unattractive bit of food will not become in only a short time. Offer the baby his cereal twice daily, as well as vegetables, orange juice and his milk. It is nice when a baby can eat a bit of hard toast, for chewing on it is good for him; but if he doesn't take the other essential foods, it is nothing to be worried about.

I would put the baby on the soft bed first, since he seems afraid of the floor and then later transfer him to the floor, and give him his toys. When he becomes used to the floor, he'll begin to move about. Many babies never do creep, but begin standing up and walking, but they should be given an opportunity to crawl and that can best be done on the floor in a play pen, which offers sides high enough to pull himself to his feet and enough space to hunch or creep about when he feels so inclined.

Mrs. F. N. writes:

"My doctor says the surest sign of rickets is not thinness, as some persons imagine, but restlessness, lack of appetite, and inability to sleep. Sometimes teeth are late in erupting without it being a sign of rickets. Mothers whose children's teeth are late in erupting should stop worrying and follow a good diet list (by the way, I think yours is a crackerjack and wish more persons had it.)"

The number of teeth is slightly better than average.

"My doctor says the surest sign of rickets is not thinness, as some persons imagine, but restlessness, lack of appetite, and inability to sleep. Sometimes teeth are late in erupting without it being a sign of rickets. Mothers whose children's teeth are late in erupting should stop worrying and follow a good diet list (by the way, I think yours is a crackerjack and wish more persons had it.)"

The early symptoms of rickets are just what you have enumerated, including excessive heat-sweating, but the most striking symptom is late teething, late walking, in short, late bony development, so we mustn't be too hasty about omitting it as a cause. There isn't anything to do, though, except correct the diet, give the child cod-liver oil and more sunshine and fresh air. I am so glad you find the feeding leaflet successful. We find that often, and always with pleasure.

Death Calls Bishop Brent

Canadian Who Won High Honors Was Well Known in Victoria

The news will be received with regret by many who met him on some of the visits he paid to Victoria, of Bishop Charles Henry Brent of the Episcopal Diocese of Western New York, who passed away in Switzerland yesterday.

Bishop Brent, who was a Canadian, born in Newcastle, Ont., April 9, 1862, had been awarded honorary degrees from institutions in our country and world and was author of a number of books.

He had spent a good portion of his life in China and on return journeys usually spent two or three days in Victoria. Towards the end of the war he was a speaker at a great meeting here and voiced an eloquent plea for world peace. Many will remember his speech.

He was well known throughout Canada, the United States and the Orient both through his clerical duties and as a lecturer. He devoted a large amount of time to training young traffic and was president of a member of the Philippine Opium Commission in 1903 and 1904 and was chairman of the International Opium Commission in 1908-9. He was also chairman of the United States delegation to the International Opium Commission at the Hague in 1912, and of the United States delegation to Geneva in 1924. He was the representative of the United States to the Advisory Board of the League of Nations in the Matter of Drug Control in 1923. During the war he was chief of chaplain service of the American Expeditionary Force.

Varied Sports Programme Scheduled For Holidays

Three Championship Events Featured On Four-day Programme

Soccer, Golf, Bicycle Races, Road Races, Boxing and Basketball Will Be Offered for Enjoyment of Fans; British Columbia Basketball and Golf Championships Will Be At Stake; Fighters to Compete in Finals for Island Titles; Four Soccer Matches on Programme; Good Entry Lists for Bike and Road Races.

For the next four days one of the most varied sports programmes in the history of Victoria has been arranged by the various athletic organizations of the city. From to-morrow, continuing until Monday, there will be a continuous programme of events and the fans will be able to pick their sports. Included in the programme are soccer and basketball games, bicycle races, golf, road races and boxing.

Three of the events are billed as championships. At the Victoria High School gymnasium on Saturday night the Victoria Capital and New Westminster Admira will fight it out for the senior men's basketball championship of British Columbia. At the Colwood Golf Club from Friday till Monday the British Columbia men's amateur championships will be in progress. On Saturday night at the Tillicum gymnasium the finals of the Vancouver Island boxing championships are billed.

ROAD RACES

With six entrants in the senior eight-mile road race to-morrow, Frank Adams and Caesar Finnemore, favourites in the event should have plenty of opposition. Adams has never run the distance in competition before, but has shown himself superior to other local talent in five-mile events and should be able to stand the longer grind. Finnemore is expected to force him all the way.

Alderman C. G. Peden is also expected to finish with the leaders. H. Hunt, H. Plowman and H. L. Hemmings should be in the race all the way and will doubtless add greatly to the keenness of the competition. This race will start at 10:30 o'clock from the corner of Broad and Johnson Streets.

In the junior event, F. Leffler, B. Macmillan and C. Parker are looked upon as strong contenders. The junior honours, however, many of the others entries are not very well-known in local running circles and may spring a surprise in this division. Other competitors are: R. Brown, F. C. Parker, J. Davis, J. Coventry, B. Fraser, C. Vickery, R. McMillan, W. Gibbs, C. Garnet, E. Kaiser, I. Macdonald, W. Balfour, W. Shields, A. Plowman and N. MacIntee.

JUVENILE RACE.

Bert Bryden is expected to come in well among the juvenile runners. Bryden has proved quite a runner in previous competitions here and is favored to finish among the leaders.

The senior event, L. Davies, C. Bernard, N. Fluellen and D. Easton will also run in this race.

The Hudson's Bay Company donated a fine prize for the winner of the senior event, while a good prize has been put up for second prize. Mr. Simpson of the Phoenix Brewery, has donated a third prize.

The first junior to round the turning point will also be given a prize.

Juvenile prizes with their respective donors are as follows: First, Mayor Ancomb; second, D. Spencer Limited; third, Fairbanks Morse Company; first to round the turning point, president of the Britannia Branch; youngest competitor completing course, Com- mander W. G. Stone.

BIKE RACES

From the moment Chief Fry fires his gun at 11 a.m. to start the first bicycle race at Beacon Hill, to-morrow cycle fans are promised a fine exhibition of speed and skillful riding as the seniors compete for the Penwill Cup and the junior riders fight for laurels in their respective classes.

The date for the senior race has been revised for the Penwill Cup event. Four are among the leading riders of Vancouver, while the remainder represent the pick of the local talent.

Unfortunately Jim Davies, star terminal city pedlar, will not be over for the event, but Leo Marlow, Fred Coxon, Sam Wilson, George Watson will carry Vancouver's colors.

Both McIntosh and Jackson have repeatedly shown their prowess in bike races here and are considered by many people to be the best in the city.

Local hopes are pinned on the Royal Athletic Park Victoria City, and the Saanich Thistles will play, while the Victoria Wests and Westholme will meet at Beacon Hill. Both games will start at three o'clock. In the event of a tie an hour overtime will be played.

The senior game is looked for at the Royal Athletic Park as the City and Thistles have strong teams. Last week the City defeated the Five C's in a Combination Cup game, while the Thistles journeyed to Vancouver and defeated South Hill in a Province Cup game.

The Victoria Wests should have no trouble winning over the Westholme team although the latter might spring a surprise.

Junior and juvenile league games for Saturday follow:

LOCAL HOPES

However, Pete Tyson, a coming local hero, Glen Campbell and Ingram MacGavin are expected to turn in a winning team with plenty of opposition and will doubtless finish well. Other competitors in the race are W. S. Robbins, R. J. Duncan, Lewis Bush, Richard Jackson, Dave Macredy and D. A. Blakey.

Bob Wensley, Gordon Scott, D. A. Blakey, F. Warner, Fred Askey and Bert Frost will strive for honors in the two-mile race for boys under sixteen years of age.

In the two-mile race for boys under eighteen years of age, Claude Tugan will race Doug Peden.

Entries will close this evening at 6 o'clock. Any riders wishing to enter the race may file their entries at 611 View Street or at the store of any cycle dealer.

PRIZES

Silver cups and medals will be presented to the winners, second place and third places men at the conclusion of the meet by Alderman James Adam.

branch of the society, Harry Langley. The speaker will deal chiefly with the poems on liberty, and will briefly cover the life story of the poet from his early days at Harrow, to his glorious and tragic end at Missolonghi, fighting the cause of Greece against the Turk.

The story of the "Prisoner of Chillon" will be given prominence, in its relation to the legend of Nature. Illustrations will be shown of the old Castle of Chillon, and of its interior dungeons, showing the columns and empty chains, where hundreds of patriots spent long weary years in their fight for freedom and democracy.

Special references will be made to the third and fourth Cantos of "Childe Harold," Hebrew melodies, and some of the lyrical poems.

The lecture will commence promptly at 8 o'clock, and a special invitation is extended to students.

CONSIDER NEW MOVE TO CURB ASIATICS HERE

Vancouver May Adopt Provincial Statute to Govern Trade Licenses

Legislation passed by the Provincial Legislature a year ago and left idle on the statute books may be invoked by Vancouver in an attempt to control the business operations of Orientals, which are regarded as a menace to white business men. All municipalities in the Province will watch with interest the experiment in Oriental control which Vancouver is about to launch.

A special committee of the Vancouver City Council, appointed this week, will investigate the possibilities of the Provincial law under which municipalities are given the right to appoint licensing boards with drastic powers over all trade licenses. It is suggested that such a body could control the business operations of Orientals through its issuance of licenses. It was with this possibility in view that the Legislature passed the statute, but so far no municipality has invoked it for this purpose.

FEAR PENETRATION

The Vancouver council decided to go into this plan fully after it had been told of the penetration of Oriental merchants into many lines of business. The Chinese and Japanese were warned, threatened to put away white merchants out of business altogether.

Alderman Angus MacInnis alone proposed the appointment of a committee to consider the matter. Mr. MacInnis protested that the adoption of measures such as suggested might imperil Canadian trade in the Orient, which is now a big factor in Canadian commerce.

Branches of fruit trees showing caterpillar nests were exhibited and will be sent to the school to enable the pupils to recognize them and destroy the insects before hatching and causing destruction. A committee consisting of Alderman B. C. Bennett, Mrs. J. E. Macdonald, Mrs. P. L. Welch and Miss L. M. Alder, was appointed to interview the proper authorities for the purpose of securing signs showing Langford district and Langford Lake.

The Institute agreed to support the local Girl Guide movement and send the small registration fee required. Mrs. B. C. Bennett, Mrs. E. C. Polson, Mrs. L. Brown, Mrs. E. N. Phillips and Mrs. A. B. Cuthbertson signed the necessary papers on behalf of the institute.

The date of the local Spring flower show was left to be decided upon at the directors' meeting. The majority of members agreed that bulbs would not be sufficient to bring until the end of April or the beginning of May.

An offer from Mrs. George Aikman to assist members by having cutting and dressmaking classes was accepted with thanks and further arrangements will be made later.

Miss Pollock from the reference department of the Victoria Library, also spoke for the afternoon. She first explained the help the library could be to rural districts and added: "Libraries are to this age what cathedrals were in the Middle Ages."

She remarked that the library was the most innocent of all God's creatures. Miss Pollock told her listeners of the well-known loan service of the public, the speaker spoke of several other advantages the library afforded. She particularly referred to the reference department and gave many humorous and interesting instances of the research work done. The "Reading for a Purpose" series was a great help in education had just been published.

The Department of Education of British Columbia, which is known as an educationist, and he gave considerable assistance in the school survey of this province. As a cricketer he made a host of friends. He played in the interprovincial matches both for Saskatchewan and British Columbia, and was captain of the Victoria Cricket Club for two years. He was overseas with the C.P.R. for two years, and upon his return.

His loss will be felt deeply by his friends, and by the staff and boys of Brentwood College with whom he was deservedly popular.

He is survived by his wife, one son, Robert, and a daughter, Barbara, at the family residence, Brentwood. His father and brother, at Birch Hills, Sask., and a sister, Mrs. R. Skinner, Tisdale, Sask.

Beautiful large daffodils adorned the tables and tea was served by Madame McDonald, Ramsey and Miss Harrison.

Service on Good Friday in St. Matthew's Church will be held at 2 p.m. Flowers and moss for decorating the church should be sent to the vestry by 2 p.m. on Saturday and anyone able to assist with decorating will be welcome.

"Hazel—1920-1929," in pink icing on a white background, was the pretty written inscription on Hazel Baynes' birthday cake on her anniversary which occurred on Monday. The little visitors also enjoyed chocolate Easter eggs and merry games were played. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. H. Baynes, Mr. and Mrs. O. Bryce, Ivy, Ford, Hazel and Hetty Baynes, Claude Hincks and Charlie Baynes.

Under the auspices of the Langford Women's Institute and the Tennis Club Committee, a novelty concert will be given in the Institute Hall on Friday, April 12.

This will not be the usual Friday night meeting this week.

St. Aidan's School will break up for the Easter vacation on Thursday for ten days.

Graham Maham, whose home is in Hollywood, California, will spend the holiday with Mr. and Mrs. F. Ashley Sparks.

George Eridge of Station Road, has been requested by a niece in England for Vancouver Island pressed flowers. She is therefore offering a prize to the pupil at Langford School who will press the best collection of British Columbian wild flowers. Competitors should start their collections as early as possible.

The services on Easter Day in St. Matthew's Church will be a celebration of the Holy Communion at 7:30 a.m. morning service followed by Holy Communion at 11 o'clock.

The first visitors of the season to Langford Lake Auto Camp are Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Bryce from Cranbrook, Alberta. Mr. and Mrs. Bryce delighted with the Spring weather here, that they plan to stay some time.

"For six months," he writes, "I never knew what it was to get a good night's sleep and my health was so poorly that I had to give up business. After my first bottle of TANLAC I feel much better than I did, and I can take this grand medicine until all nervousness disappears. Could Hardly Get Around "Working in a damp place" gave me rheumatism so badly I could hardly get around. My joints and knuckles were swollen badly and every muscle in my body seemed to ache. I tried "St. Jacob's Oil" and got relief almost instantly. To-day, thanks to that wonderful oil, I work eight hours a day in all kinds of weather without a bit of trouble."

Old "St. Jacob's Oil" certainly does knock the pains and aches of Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lumbaritis, Neuralgia, and Neuralgia. It penetrates directly to the affected parts and draws out all the pain and misery, and it doesn't burn the skin. Just try a small trial bottle which you can get from your druggist.

What Will you do

When your Children Cry for It

There is hardly a household that hasn't heard of Castoria! At least five million homes are never without it. If there are children in your family, there's almost daily need of its comfort, and any night may find you very thankful there's a bottle in the house. A few drops of Castoria will soon restore a child to health again. A vegetable product, it is a baby remedy meant for young folks. Castoria is about the only thing you have ever heard doctors advise giving to infants. Stronger medicines are dangerous to a tiny child, but Castoria is safe for them to grow-ups. Good old Castoria! Remember the name, and remember to buy it. It may spare you a sleepless anxious night. It is always ready, always safe to use; in emergencies, for everyday ailments. Any hour of the day or night, this Baby Remedy is the most popular with mothers than it is to-day. Every druggist has it.

THE BROTHERHOOD OF SCIENCE

FROM ALCHEMY TO SCIENCE

ROGER BACON, born in 1214, was known as an alchemist. He believed in the existence of a philosopher's stone which would convert base metal into gold. While searching for this mythical stone, he and other alchemists rendered great service to mankind by making discoveries more valuable to us than gold.

The fantastic cauldrons and crude retorts of the alchemist's workshop were the forerunners of the scientific instruments now used in such modern laboratories as those of Canadian Industries Limited.

This is No. 3 of a series of illustrated talks on scientific research and modern industry.

OBITUARY

Funeral service for the late Walter Harbord, who died yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the S. J. Curwen and Son Funeral Home. Many friends attended the service which was conducted by Rev. J. Sharp. The pall-were: Col. J. R. Forbes, Major W. H. Watts, Q. D. H. Ward, G. S. Blain, Mr. and Mrs. Mr. Longton. Major W. H. Watts presided at the organ. Interment was made in the Royal Oak Burial Park.

The death occurred at Rosethaven, Sidney, on March 28 of Nancy Price, wife of Ewing Nelson of Deep Creek, daughter of the late Thomas Stewart of Durdie, Helensburgh, Scotland, aged thirty-five years. The funeral will be held on Saturday from Holy Trinity Church, Patricia Bay, Rev. Montague F. P. Burden, acting Minister of Public Works.

Pants Singh, who pleaded guilty in City Police Court this morning to a charge of carrying on business as a false dealer without a license, was fined $17.50, which includes the $10 license, a $5 fine and $2.50 costs.

Saanich will no longer allow teachers more than ten days sick leave on full pay in any one year. The School Board has right to cancel the privilege when it accredits teachers of claiming credit for sick leave privileges unused in preceding years.

The Woman's Auxiliary to the local Yacht Club are holding a silver tea on Friday, April 5, from 2:30 till 5 p.m. in the Yacht Club, Government Street. All printers, wives and their friends are invited to attend and welcome Mrs. Woodley, the new president.

Hearing of John Barnes, on two charges of obtaining money by false pretences, was held yesterday in City Police Court for Friday, April 5. Barnes, asking for the remand, told the court he expected money with which to make restitution.

A dance will be held this evening in the Eagles' Hall, Government Street, in aid of the band fund for the coming convention in Wenatchee, Wash. The women's auxiliary and the band committee are assisting in the promotion of the affair, which will start at 9 o'clock.

Notified by the city that the former premises of the Silver Spring Brewery, now the Hotel Balmoral, standing on ground owned by the city, are required for school purposes, were demolished and must be removed, the City School Board last night voted to call for tenders on the demolition of the structure.

An action for damages arising from the demolition of the building was heard in Provincial Court today by H. Morris, against the Veterans' Sightseeing Company, defendant. The hearing proceeded before Judge P. S. Lampman with the calling of a number of witnesses. Gordon A. Cameron appeared for the plaintiff, and R. C. Lowe for the defendant firm.

William N. O'Neill Company Limited of 551 Yates Street, Victoria, has been awarded the contract for the entering into the construction of the new wing of the Crystal Garden Hotel. It is announced by the general contractor, C. H. Hals-Aldinger Contractors Limited. The electrical contract for the hotel has been placed with Hume and Rumble of New Westminster. Approximately $60,000 is the value of each contract.

An inadequate fire alarm system at Victoria High School was reported to the City School Board last night by Fire Chief Vernon Stewart, deputy provincial fire marshall for the area. Some time which ends the class periods is used for fire alarm purposes, and this double use might lead to confession if it was stated. The point was taken under advisement by the building and grounds committee for early report.

The purchase of a gasoline lawn mower through Alcock, Dowling and Wright, to cost $447, was authorized by the City School Board last night. The purchase of a new bus, for school cutting operations, a second hand, recently obtained, to cost $975, will be purchased from the A. R. Williams Company, Vancouver, for the technical shops. The board also voted to cut down line of trees on the South Park School grounds, where spreading roots are giving trouble.

Blind was charged in City Police Court with the theft of a ring which was the property of Mrs. Myrtle Brock, Burnside Road. He pleaded not guilty through R. A. Wootton, his counsel, electing trial by higher court.

The evidence for the prosecution showed that the ring in question, belonging to Mrs. Brock, has been worn by her daughter, Irene Brock. When visiting the Bland home, Miss Brock had exchanged rings with Irene Bland, a daughter of the accused, she said.

Three days afterwards when family trouble developed, Mrs. Bland, with her daughter, had left the home, the ring being left in a jewelry box, along with Mrs. Bland's wedding ring.

PAWNED RINGS

The resignation of John R. Clark was reluctantly announced by President Evans, who remarked that Mr. Clark had been one of the most energetic members of the club. A farewell party will be held at the Crystal Garden on Saturday evening in honor of Mr. Clark, who leaves shortly for Vancouver.

Hearing at Ottawa On Manitoba Lands

Ottawa, March 29.—Suggestion for an adjustment between Dominion and Provincial Governments for the millions of acres of land alienated by the Federal authorities in Manitoba since 1870 was made at yesterday's session of the Manitoba Natural Resources Commission. A. B. Macdonald, general counsel for Manitoba, urged the adjustment be based upon the agreement reached between Alberta and Saskatchewan with the Dominion, allowing reimbursement for alienated lands on a cash basis. He said there was no way of arriving at an adjustment figure, he said. Of these, the most equitable system appeared to be that in effect in the other prairie provinces. The valuation of the alienated lands would not enter necessarily into such a calculation.

Mr. Hudson did not give to the commission any figure which would represent the sum Manitoba expects from the Federal Government.

WANTED NOTHING

Called as a defence witness after refusing to testify for the prosecution, Mrs. Bland admitted she had had trouble with her husband.

When they met on the street later, he had asked her what he was to do about the jewelry.

WANTED NOTHING

I wanted nothing belonging to him. I told him he could do what he liked about the jewelry," she testified.

"I had forgotten at the time that Mrs. Brock's ring was in the box with my own," she added.

The ring was immediately discharged by Magistrate George Jay, who ruled there was sufficient doubt as to the offence to warrant a dismissal.

The rings were ordered returned to their owners upon payment to the pawnbroker.

C. L. Harrison conducted the prosecution.

Judgment was reserved until April 4.

WHITNEY LETTER

By Branson, Brown & Co. Ltd.

New York, March 28—Whitney of the Wall Street Financial Bureau says to-day:

"Absorbing in the first hour all of the distress stock and in the last hour easily absorbing profit-taking, yesterday's market continued the improvement which made its appearance in the final two hours of Tuesday's market. In spite of the fact that to-day's market is faced with a two-day holiday I anticipate that further improvement would be recorded and that the profit-taking, which will undoubtedly make its appearance in the closing hour, will be easily handled."

The market is faced with a two-day holiday I anticipate that further improvement would be recorded and that the profit-taking, which will undoubtedly make its appearance in the closing hour, will be easily handled."

There is certainly no reason for disposing of stocks which were purchased in the past two days or for that matter any sound stocks."

"Money started its decline yesterday as you were advised it would, and further decline in the call rate will be recorded to-day. The money market rate of 5% is now being held, but definitely over, the first good indication being the reduction of an eighth of one per cent in bankers' acceptance rates which was recorded to-day. I believe it may be accepted as a foregone conclusion that the will be the case in the near future. Your prediction rate either to-day or for at least a considerably longer period than recently believed. The brokers' loans report will show an enormous reduction, perhaps in a similar period of time. So far as secondary reaction is concerned, I rather doubt that it will ever put in an appearance prior to Tuesday of next week."

COMMENT

"Standard Oil of New Jersey took undisputed leadership of the oil group, as you were advised would be the case, has recorded a new high for the year and come within approximately a point of its all-time record high which latter was set in 1923. I continue to recommend this issue within the range of 57 and 60."

Pan American Pete will follow this leadership and continues to have a buying recommendation while available between 49 and 51%. Associated Dry Goods, Inc., has been listed as non-highly radical, should be purchased while available under 60 as one of the bargain issues of the list, in which category may be included the three traction stocks, namely, Interborough Manhattan Modified and Brooklyn and Manhattan Transit.

"On the purchase of International Combination Engineering while it is obtainable below 75."

"In the rail group take advantage of prices below 70 to buy Rio Grande pfd. and prices below 50 to buy Western Maryland second pfd. acting likewise in Canadian Pacific at any point, below 50."

"All four steel stocks recommended here yesterday are still in a decidedly attractive buying range."

"American Can is among the best of the speculative commitments, bought for short term and long pull with the range of 60 to 70."

"Alcan Industries is already across 20, re-engaging in its interrupted advance decidedly enough to warrant the prediction that we will have a new record recorded at least by the first of the new week."

N.Y. Market Gossip

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Ltd.)

New York, March 28—Four hundred and six new lows for the year were uncovered in Tuesday's dealings on the New York Stock Exchange. Facing a call money rate of 20 per cent the stock market was in a most remarkable demonstration, probably that ever has been seen. During most of the day steady liquidation carried price downward, as money rose, and then with dramatic swiftness the market turned about and recovered practically all of the ground it had lost. Seldom, if ever, has such a circumstance come to pass. In other days there have been rallies after a decline, but seldom has the full effect of a big decline been nullified on the day that took place. It seemed the market had rung some sort of exceedingly favorable bell, and time after time nothing that was deferred tangible.

It was reported that demand for copper had slackened until there was some order brought out of chaos in the stock market. Obviously there was a thought that the price for copper might drop, and that a credit entry by Congress is imminent.

The world's total exports of steel in 1928 reached a new record, 27 per cent above the pre-war trade in this basic commodity. The National Foreign Trade Council, representing striking evidence of the post-war rehabilitation has become a matter of fact in the world's economic structure.

Representatives of major California oil companies unanimously endorsed proposals of Ann. Pet. Institute for curtailment of state's oil output to 1928 level, effective April 1, pledging strict adherence.

Swedish firm enters war for phone contracts. Meeting of Santa Fe's first stockholders.

American Investors in the United States yesterday were barred from participating in the stock market.

STOCKS SOAR HIGHER AND CALL MONEY DROPS TO 8

Wall Street, New York, March 28—By B.C. Bond Corporation's Leased Wire

Wheat opened slightly higher this morning, due to some encouragement in the cables. Liverpool following our advance of yesterday, but there was little real business and the market sold off, prices sinking to 1½ cents under the previous close, the market having a heavy appearance.

Around mid-session a little buying came in from seaboard, and this combined with one or two rather unfavorable reports received on Kansas crop conditions, and the fact that Friday is a holiday, started a short covering movement which found offerings very scarce, and prices were boosted 2 cents from the low point. From this time on, the market acted very nervous, declining about 1 cent from the high point, but came back strong again with further short covering in evidence.

This market was stronger than Chicago throughout the day, and at one time Winnipeg May went to a premium of 5 cents over Chicago May, but this brought in some selling on spreads. Export business overnight was reported as being practically nil, but some new business came during the morning, estimated at around 400,000 bushels.

There was a good demand for cash wheat, more particularly from shipping houses who were after practically all grades from No. 3 northern down to feed, and with offerings still light, spreads were boosted from ½ to 1½ cents.

Cash grain was received over large areas of the Winter wheat belt, especially where they were needed the most, and while the Kansas crop appears to be somewhat backward, general conditions over the entire belt appear to be satisfactory with Winter killing less than average.

Copper bull sentiment is beginning to work up over the dry conditions existing in Western Canada, but actually there is not much to worry about at the present time as rains during the next five or six weeks would correct existing conditions. The market closed very strong, and at the high for the day.

Coarse grains: Outside of a fair demand for barley by seaboard houses there was very little doing in these markets. Oats and rye were weak most of the day, but firms up in the late trade in sympathy with the strength in wheat.

"LOVE IS OF THE VALLEY"

By DAVID LYALL

Bertrice turned at that, her still wet eyes flashing. "You have no right to speak like that to my father, Mrs. Brodie. He may yet have the worst of it. It is not a moment for recrimination, but for co-operation and help. I can't forgive you. I'm sure I never shall." Come, father, as you say, we have been separated ever since he came." She put her hand through his arm and drew him towards the door, while Mrs. Brodie regarded her as if seeing her for the first time.

Tense with indignation, the color had risen in Bertrice Heron's face and her slender figure seemed to have acquired a certain dignity.

"I can dispense with your forgiveness, Miss Heron," said Mrs. Brodie with icy courtesy. "I have my own sorrows left. My son, serving his country, will have to hear of how his father died. My daughter will have to face the future under cloud which your father might have rendered impossible by the exercise of a little leniency."

"Come, father," said Bertrice, clearly not trusting herself to further speech. They went with that, and somehow it struck her what a sorry spectacle it all was, the house of death poisoned and rendered more terrible by the hate and animosity of the living.

She made her father get into the taxi first, and when she had seated herself she pushed her hand through his arm.

"Never mind, old dear. She didn't mean the half of it. One could see that she is partly distraught."

"Not distraught, there was a most unearthly calm about her, Beatrice, and we can't get away from the fact that it was the truth she spoke."

Bertrice had no answer ready to it. In front there were spectres of prison cells, courts of justice; sentence and merciful oblivion. And all because of some sense of guilt of weakness in her father's most lovable personality, the weakness which public opinion would label as a crime.

Bertrice Heron lived centuries of poignant feeling during that brief ride back to Edinburgh. By common consent they returned to the offices in York Place. Heron's pathetic eagerness to stand up to his dereliction from the straight path Beatrice did not seek to comment.

"Lotta will be frightfully upset, Beatrice. How am I to tell her?"

"I will tell her, if you like," said Beatrice bravely. "You mustn't be nervous or further agitated, father. You've got all your strength prepared for to-morrow."

Her spirit quailed at the vista called up by these simple words, and she saw her father wince.

As they reached the gate he stood a moment looking down the slope to the sea, which was all alive and turbulent instead of grey and still as it was the night before.

"Life's a queer thing, Beatrice. Some of us are badly equipped for it. Something seems to have been left out of me. Look what a failure I've been."

"No, no, father," said Beatrice, clinging to his arm. "You have not made money, perhaps—" rowed until it held only one solitary tragic figure.

She went out about one o'clock, some strong coffee and sandwiches, and made her father eat and drink; taking a little herself, aware that physical strength has to be sustained when such a drain is made on the mental and moral force.

Between four and five she suggested that they should go home.

"Hadn't I better stay here, dear, in case I'm wanted?" he asked.

"No," said Beatrice decisively. "They know where to find you. And we shall have to tell Lotta and Ida. I'm rather glad that Wally can't be told just yet."

Heron's only son, after a considerable spell of illness, had decided to leave Scotland. A relative of his stepmother, who had done well on a sheep farm in New Zealand, had invited him to come out for a year for the purpose of establishing his health. It was just possible now that he might remain altogether in New Zealand. He was writing happy letters to his wife, and was happy in the country and the people he was with. It had been a blow to Heron to part with his son, who was intended to follow his own profession. The Herons for four generations had followed the profession of the law, some of them had been distinguished ornaments of it. Wally himself had hated leaving Scotland, but he had been a good boy, sharing all Stevenson's love for his country, and passionately attached to its literature and tradition. The one thing which had resigned him to New Zealand had been the knowledge that he would find so many of his compatriots there.

They left the office about the usual time and walked to the car which would take them within ten minutes' walk of their own home.

"There was no sign at all in the car. Heron seemed to shrink into his corner, as if fearing that suspicious eyes were already concentrated on him. This, of course, was absurd. As yet no one had connected him with the tragedy reported in the evening papers.

All the clouds had cleared by the time they left the car, and the sky was hardening, while the air had a fresh tang in it, suggesting of spring. The wind was still, making the waves of the Firth into little streaks of foam. As they walked away from the car terminus, preparing to descend the slope to the quiet thoroughfare in which "The Outlook" stood, Heron spoke nervously.

"Lotta will be frightfully upset, Beatrice. How am I to tell her?"

"I will tell her, if you like," said Beatrice bravely. "You mustn't be nervous or further agitated, father. You've got all your strength prepared for to-morrow."

Gautier's Cat Ate Detested Soup
So As to Have Fish
Theophile Gautier, the French author, used to eat fish soup. He always had a place at table with him when he dined alone. She sat at a chair opposite him and was always waiting when he arrived, her forepaws on the edge of the table. She received a serving of each course and generally went through the entire meal.
But she did not like soup. Time and again she would protest to eat it. Then Gautier would order that she should receive no fish when he did. Eponine, knowing well she was being punished, would quickly lap up her soup and cry pleadingly for some fish—which she got.

THE ANYMITES

STORY & HAL COCHRAN — PICTURES BY KNICK

READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE

The queer tub man still sauted around, while all the Timies on the ground, just stood and watched him closely. They were very much amazed. "I hope he doesn't fall," said one. "I'm sure that that would be no fun. In fact, if he drops to the ground, I'm sure that he'll be dazed."

"He's all right," said another, "but he's not a good look-out." He shouted loud. "I'm like a hawk! I fly around to suit myself and never take a flop. Don't fret because you think I'll fall, 'cause there's no chance of that at all. I'll make a pretty landing, boys, when I get set to it."

Then 'round and 'round he went some more. His antics made the Timies roar. Said Cappy, "Look! He loops the loop and does a spiral dive. He has a heap of nerve, no doubt, or he'd be scared that he'd fall out. If I had ever tried that stunt I wouldn't be alive."

BEDTIME STORYUncle Wiggily's Shaving Brush

Copyright, 1929, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate

By HOWARD R. GARIS

"Well," said Uncle Wiggily to himself as he finished reading The Woodland News and put the paper aside to save the Bedtime Story for the little Timies when they should have their homework done that evening. "Well, I think I'll go up in the bathroom and shave."

"Shave this time of afternoon?" exclaimed his wife in surprise. "Whatever for, Wiggly? It's almost time for tea now."

"Oh, well, I think I'll have time to go out and have an adventure before we eat," said Mr. Longears looking in the glass to make sure his whiskers were long enough to need lathering with a soapy brush and smoothing off with a razor—which they were.

"Nonsense!" sniffed Mrs. Longears. "Don't be silly, Mr. Longears."

"Thank you, I shall go up and shave now," said Uncle Wiggily. "Besides, who knows, you may be giving me another surprise party and I want to look proper."

"Not another surprise party after the one we gave you last night," laughed Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy. "That will do for a while."

"I agreed Uncle Wiggily. 'It will be only joking. But I am going up and shave now' and then I will hop out for a little while."

"Where's the rabbit?" asked the Gator as the Bob Cat landed on the ground. "Where's our rabbit for supper?"

"Don't talk to me about rabbits or surprises," groaned the Bob Cat. "I'm a sick Bad Cat. Oh, get a doctor! Get a doctor! And away he hurried to the woods with the Gator. So Mr. Longears was saved."

The rabbit gentleman began mixing up a lather.

"Well, be careful the Bob Cat and Skilly Scally Alligator don't get you," warned Mr. Longears. "You know they tried to break in on the surprise party last night, and would have succeeded if the Timies played such soft, sweet, sorrowful music that their hearts turned good for a change."

"Yes," agreed Uncle Wiggily. "I'll be careful. The Bob Cat said he might bite me another time. But he won't be around now. I'll go up and lather my brush to shave."

So the rabbit gentleman stepped upstairs and down he began mixing up the soap and water into a beautiful lather with his brush, to rub the soap on his whiskers to soften them so they would scrape off easier with the razor.

Now, it so happened that when Uncle Wiggily went up in the bathroom to shave that the window was open a little way, for the old-time weather was warm. He was seen by the Bob Cat and the Skilly Scally Alligator, who had again come to the hollow stump bungalow to see what they could pick up to eat.

"Did you see that?" whispered the Gator to the Bob Cat.

"See what?" asked the Bad Chap with the silly little tail.

To-morrow's Horoscope

FRIDAY, MARCH 29, 1929

Astrologers read this as rather an unimportant day in planetary government.

Business of far-reaching possibilities should be postponed.

The tendency of the sway is toward destructive or even explosive crises in business and politics, but the stars are peaceful peacemakers while this rule of the stars prevails.

Judgment may be untrustworthy under this direction of the stars, which arouses sanguine expectations on little foundation.

Astrologers declare.

It is not a lucky day for beginning long journeys of any sort and especially threatening ones.

Theatres are especially lucky at this time for plays as well as films are to gain much patronage.

Although the general forecast is rather depressing for to-day, women should benefit under this direction of the stars, which is most promising for shopping, entertainments and amusements of every sort.

The fashion of wearing beards and mustaches, if the stars are rightly read, but it will not be accepted.

Announcement of tremendous gifts to educational institutions will mark the close of the university next Summer, it is predicted.

Recreational tendencies disclosed in horoscopes will be strong as the year advances.

Persons whose birthday is in the autumn of friendships that assume many social favors in the coming year. Pleasant journeys and more or less romance are foretold.

Children born on this day probably will have artistic temperament that find expression in practical matters. The qualities of this sign often are exceedingly fond of ceramics.

Old Judgment Here Affects I'm Alone Case

U.S. Halibut Boat Was Chased Outside Three-mile Limit and Seized

Seizure of Coal Harbor Also Recalled By Sinking of Canadian Vessel

Cited by the United States Government, a judgment of Mr. Justice Archer Martin, local Judge in Victoria, that British fishermen were condemning the United States schooner North in 1905 for poaching in Canadian waters, may yet decide the international dispute which has arisen over the rum runner I'm Alone.

JUDGMENT OF COURT

"On the morning of July 8, 1905, the foreign (American) schooner North, alleged in its statement of defense to have been in the territorial waters of the United States of America, was hove to and unlawfully engaged in halibut fishing in Qualicum Sound, Vancouver Island, within the three-mile limit, having all its four fishing boats, doors, out for the purpose," stated Mr. Justice Martin.

"On observing the approach in obvious purse within the three-mile limit, and approximately four or five miles off, of the Canadian fisheries protection cruiser Kestrel, she picked up two of her dories, and stood out to sea. The Kestrel continued her pursuit of the North, and in the course of the night, speeded to the attempt to intercept the North; and in the course of that pursuit the Kestrel observed another dory close to and pulling hard from the land towards the schooner, which dory the Kestrel, after slightly deviating from her course, pulled up and seized with the three-mile limit, and after finding her position by cross bearings continued her pursuit of the North, which she overhauled in about ten or twelve minutes, and seized with the two first-mentioned dories, about one and three-quarter miles outside the three-mile limit."

SHOT CRASHED PILOT HOUSE

During the pursuit a shot from the Kestrel crashed through the North's pilot house, missing the helmsman's head.

Mr. Justice Martin pointed out that the pursuit began within the three-mile limit, was clearly continuous.

The North and her boat tackle, rigging, apparel, furniture, stores and cargo were condemned and declared forfeited to His Majesty.

JUDGMENT AFFIRMED

Less than a year ago the judgment was affirmed by the Supreme Court of Canada.

On that occasion Justice Davis said: "I think the Admiralty Court, when exercising its jurisdiction, is bound to take notice of the law of nations, and that by that law, when a vessel within foreign territory commits an infraction of its laws, either against the people or its fisheries, its revenues, or coasts, she may be immediately pursued into the open seas beyond the territorial limits and there taken."

"If the poaching schooner had escaped into the territorial waters of her own country she would have been chased, captured, and brought back, the government of that country might well justify intervention."

"The right of pursuit is recognized by international law. It springs from what in the last analysis is the base of so much international law in many analogous cases, the necessities of self-defence and protection."

COAL HARBOR CASE

Less than a month ago Captain Randall of the I'm Alone that he was fourteen or fifteen miles off the American coast when first challenged, recalls to British Columbia shipping men an incident which occurred on the Pacific Coast when the Coal Harbor was seized.

Randall's evidence is corroborated by the officer of the cutter Wolcott, who was on board the I'm Alone.

It was the Wolcott who was inside the twelve-mile limit. But American coastguard evidence is not always accurate. In fact, a case of deliberate faking occurred on the Pacific.

Nine Sailors From S.S. St. Michael Face Charge of Illegal Possession

San Francisco, March 28.—Nine sailors of the transport St. Michael's crew, who, United States authorities claim, were smuggling liquor aboard the ship, face charges of possession, transportation and sale of liquor. The nine are to be arraigned Friday.

Capt. Van Lee Peeler, who commanded the St. Michael, said yesterday that prohibition fell overboard before the vessel was two days out. The ship cleared New York March 8, he said, and twenty-four hours later many soldiers were intoxicated.

W. L. Cattal Suffered Greatly With Lamie Back

Ottawa, Ont., March 27 (Special)—"Two years ago I was troubled with a lame back," writes Mr. W. L. Cattal, 442 Cambridge Street, Ottawa. "A friend advised me to try Dodd's Kidney Pills and I did. After taking the second box I was completely relieved. I always keep a box on hand in case of a relapse. My friend has my everlasting thanks."

The clocks at the Naval Observatory, Washington, which furnish time for the United States east of the Rockies, are kept in an underground vault and cannot be disturbed except by electricity. The vaults are never opened except in case of emergency. Rest my give temporary relief. Dodd's Kidney Pills do much more than this. They strengthen the weak kidneys and remove the cause of the pain."

900 SETTLERS IN WINNIPEG

Large Movement From Europe to Prairies Over Canadian National Lines

Winnipeg, March 28.—More than 900 British settlers received by the Canadian National Railways, who arrived at Halifax over the week-end, are now proceeding westward to the prairies. Some 200 more settlers into Winnipeg over the Canadian lines yesterday and others are due to arrive within the next few days. Nearly 900 immigrants from Europe came to Canada here in the last two days, a large percentage were British and Scandinavian, including families.

A number of the settlers came under the auspices of the Canadian Lutheran Immigration Aid Society. The movement of British juveniles to Canada is particularly important, because many of these boys are being settled in Eastern Canada. Plans are being made for all the newcomers, whether they be families, couples or single persons. A large number of Germans included in the large group of British immigrants, which will arrive in Winnipeg tomorrow from the Atlantic.

Hollanders, mostly Germans, are included in the passengers from the Ryndam and the Estonia, also arriving to-day.

Salvage Boat Floats Rodman

After being aground for nearly thirty-six hours, the Pacific Steamship Company's vessel Admiral Rodman was floated off Jameson Island, near Chemainus, this morning at 6 o'clock by the Pacific Salvage Company No. 1 from Vancouver. Information to this effect was received in Victoria this morning at the local office of the salvage company.

After being released the Rodman proceeded under her own steam to Chemainus, where a portion of the hull was damaged by the impact with the rocks. Reports received here indicate that the vessel is only slightly damaged. She will probably proceed to Seattle to be repaired.
